

That Pickle Guy Strategic Message Planner

Courtney Kurhayez

Advertising Goal

The primary goal is to expand That Pickle Guy's reach across the country to consumers looking for healthy food. This is achieved by constructing messaging that clearly explains the taste of the product and the health benefits (i.e., sugar free, vegan, etc.) while still emphasizing the Chicago taste people love. The primary goal is to increase the percentage of online sales by 15%, and the secondary goal is to increase the SEO for those searching for healthy pickle products by 10%.

Brand Image

- Current brand image: The target audience believes that That Pickle Guy has a quality product, but that it may be outdated and not appealing to a younger audience, such as consumers in their twenties or thirties.
- Desired brand image: That Pickle Guy is a family-oriented business focused on providing healthy pickles to consumers that are safe for vegans, vegetarians, and those on certain diets to eat.

Challenges

- Brand image challenge: The challenge is to increase the reach and desirability to consumers looking for fresh, vegan, vegetarian, and healthy pickle options (i.e., no sugar, etc.).
- The challenge is to increase That Pickle Guy's reach to an audience that is very conscious about what they put into their bodies.
- While easy to navigate, the website aesthetic is outdated and the copy is clunky at times
- Website logo is pixelated
- No clear link to social media accounts
- Website contains typos
- Social media is not updated regularly/consistently
- Use of all caps can turn off customers
- Not easy to find information on international shipping

Purpose of Product

The purpose of the product is to provide customers with a fresh and healthy jar of pickles perfect for any occasion.

Target Audience: Demographics and Psychographics

There are a few target audiences for this campaign:

- Health-conscious individuals
- Consumers searching for gluten-free products with no trans fat or sugar
- Consumers searching for vegan products and/or vegetarian products

Primary Target Audience: Health-conscious individuals looking for a great-tasting product that is gluten-free, and able to be consumed by vegans and/or vegetarians

The overall main target audience focuses on consumers who are health-conscious and concerned about the quality of the products that they are buying. These consumers take responsibility for their own health, and therefore seek out products that they know they can trust, and that are good for them. Millennials, those between 25-34 years of age, have been found to be the most health-conscious individuals. However, Generation Z, especially those that are currently 18 years of age and up, are also part of the health-conscious group. These consumers do not want to see sensational claims, but rather receive their information from influencers, blogs, and other trusted sources of information.

Product: Key Features

- Fresh, all-natural products that are gluten-free, vegan, and vegetarian

Product Benefits

- Products are all-natural, Kosher, Gluten-Free, Vegan, Vegetarian, and contain no MSG or Trans Fat or sugar

Email Subject Line: That Pickle Guy Partnership Opportunity

Hi <insert name here>,

We read your post on a great vegan dish for <insert recipe specific to their site>, and see that you share the value of providing others with healthy and tasty vegan dishes. That Pickle Guy has created pickle products that are vegan, vegetarian, and are gluten-free -- among a variety of other healthy advantages.

The products are available online, as well as at Whole Foods and Costco. They also appeared on season four of Top Chef, and were endorsed by celebrity chef Andrew Zimmern. We would love to provide you with a free jar to use in a vegan recipe, as well as provide you with an affiliate link for your audience to use.

Would you like to talk more about partnering with us to help bring your audiences a new, healthy side that will be a great addition to their favorite dishes?

Please let me know, thanks.

Email Subject Line: Local Pickle Business Returns to Farmers Markets

Hi <insert name here>,

Finding vegan and gluten-free food products was a challenge in 2020, which was further amplified by the cancellation of many farmers markets. This summer, they are making a comeback. Local favorite That Pickle Guy will be returning to the <insert town here> market starting on <insert date.>

Details on the fresh-packed pickles can be found here:
<https://thatpickleguy.com/pickle-guy-fresh-packed-pickles/>

Would you like me to connect you with Greg Frederick, founder of That Pickle Guy, to discuss what it's like being able to return to the market this year?

Please let me know, thanks.
